DECISION AND ORDER

Byron Bertrand (Complainant) filed a complaint with the Texas Department of Motor Vehicles (Department) seeking relief pursuant to Texas Occupations Code §§ 2301.601-2301.613 (Lemon Law) for alleged warrantable defects in his vehicle distributed by Suzuki Motor of America, Inc. (Respondent). A preponderance of the evidence shows that the subject vehicle has a warrantable defect that qualifies for repair relief only.

I. Procedural History, Notice and Jurisdiction

Matters of notice of hearing¹ and jurisdiction were not contested and are discussed only in the Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law. The hearing in this case convened on October 18, 2022, in Baytown, Texas, before Hearings Examiner Andrew Kang, and the record closed on the same day. The Complainant, represented himself. Pat Boyd, Technical Service and Parts Manager, represented the Respondent.

II. Discussion

A. Applicable Law

1. Repurchase/Replacement Relief Requirements

Repurchase and replacement relief only apply to new vehicles.² A vehicle qualifies for repurchase or replacement if the respondent cannot “conform a motor vehicle to an applicable express warranty by repairing or correcting a defect or condition that creates a serious safety hazard or substantially impairs the use or market value of the motor vehicle after a reasonable number of attempts.”³ In other words, (1) the vehicle must have a defect covered by an applicable warranty (warrantable defect); (2) the defect must either (a) create a serious safety hazard or (b) substantially impair the use or market value of the vehicle; and (3) the defect must currently exist after a “reasonable number of attempts” at repair.⁴ In addition, the Lemon Law imposes other requirements for repurchase/replacement relief, including (1) a written notice of the defect to the respondent, (2) an opportunity to cure by the respondent, and (3) a deadline for filing a Lemon Law complaint.

a. Serious Safety Hazard

The Lemon Law defines “serious safety hazard” as a life-threatening malfunction or nonconformity that: (1) substantially impedes a person’s ability to control or operate a vehicle for ordinary use or intended purposes, or (2) creates a substantial risk of fire or explosion.⁵

b. Substantial Impairment of Use or Value

i. Impairment of Use

The Department applies a reasonable purchaser standard for determining whether a defect substantially impairs use. Under this standard, the factfinder considers “whether a defect or nonconformity hampers the intended normal operation of the vehicle” from the perspective of a reasonable prospective purchaser. For instance, “while a vehicle with a non-functioning air conditioner would be available for use and transporting passengers, its intended normal use would be substantially impaired.”⁶

ii. Impairment of Value

The Department applies a reasonable purchaser standard for determining whether a defect substantially impairs the value of a vehicle. The reasonable purchaser standard “does not require an owner to present an expert witness or any technical or market-based evidence to show decreased value.” Instead, under this standard, “factfinders should put themselves in the position of a reasonable prospective purchaser of the subject vehicle and determine (based on the evidence presented) if the current condition of the vehicle would deter them from buying the vehicle or substantially negatively affect how much they would be willing to pay for the vehicle.”⁷

c. Reasonable Number of Repair Attempts

Generally, a rebuttable presumption is established that the vehicle had a reasonable number of repair attempts if:

[T]he same nonconformity continues to exist after being subject to repair four or more times by the manufacturer, converter, or distributor or an authorized agent or franchised dealer of a manufacturer, converter, or distributor and the attempts were made before the earlier of: (A) the date the express warranty expires; or (B) 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever occurs first, following the date of original delivery of the motor vehicle to the owner.⁸

Alternatively, for serious safety hazards, a rebuttable presumption is established that the vehicle had a reasonable number of repair attempts if:

[T]he same nonconformity creates a serious safety hazard and continues to exist after causing the vehicle to have been subject to repair two or more times by the manufacturer, converter, or distributor or an authorized agent or franchised dealer of a manufacturer, converter, or distributor and the attempts were made before the earlier of: (A) the date the express warranty expires; or (B) 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever occurs first, following the date of original delivery of the motor vehicle to the owner.⁹

Additionally, for vehicles out of service at least 30 days, a rebuttable presumption may be established that the vehicle had a reasonable number of repair attempts if:

[A] nonconformity still exists that substantially impairs the vehicle's use or market value, the vehicle is out of service for repair for a cumulative total of 30 or more days, and the attempts were made before the earlier of: (A) the date the express warranty expires; or (B) 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever occurs first, following the date of original delivery of the motor vehicle to the owner.¹⁰

The 30 days described above does not include any period when the owner has a comparable loaner vehicle provided while the dealer repairs the subject vehicle.¹¹

The existence of a statutory rebuttable presumption does not preclude otherwise finding a reasonable number of attempts to repair the vehicle based on different circumstances and fewer attempts.¹² Furthermore, the Department adopted a decision indicating that if a consumer presents the vehicle to a dealer for repair and the dealer fails to repair the vehicle, then that visit would constitute a repair attempt unless the consumer was at fault for the failure to repair the vehicle.¹³

d. Other Requirements

Even if a vehicle satisfies the preceding requirements for repurchase/replacement relief, the Lemon Law prohibits repurchase or replacement unless: (1) the owner or someone on behalf of the owner, or the Department has provided written notice of the alleged defect or nonconformity to the respondent;¹⁴ (2) the respondent was given an opportunity to cure the defect or

¹⁴ 43 TEX. ADMIN. CODE § 215.204 provides that “[u]pon receipt of a complaint for lemon law or warranty performance relief, the department will provide notification of the complaint to the appropriate manufacturer, converter, or distributor.” The Department’s notice of the complaint to the Respondent satisfies the requirement to provide notice of the defect or nonconformity to the Respondent. nonconformity;¹⁵ and (3) the Lemon Law complaint was filed within six months after the earliest of: the warranty's expiration date or the dates on which 24 months or 24,000 miles had passed since the date of original delivery of the motor vehicle to an owner.¹⁶

2. Warranty Repair Relief

If repurchase or replacement relief does not apply, a vehicle may still qualify for warranty repair if the vehicle has a “defect . . . that is covered by a manufacturer's, converter's, or distributor's . . . warranty agreement applicable to the vehicle”; the vehicle owner provided written notice of the defect to the manufacturer, converter, distributor, or its authorized agent before the warranty's expiration; and the owner filed a complaint with the Department specifying the defect.¹⁷ The manufacturer, converter, or distributor has an obligation to “make repairs necessary to conform a new motor vehicle to an applicable . . . express warranty.”¹⁸

3. Burden of Proof

The law places the burden of proof on the Complainant.¹⁹ The Complainant must prove all facts required for relief by a preponderance of the evidence. That is, the Complainant must present sufficient evidence to show that every required fact more likely than not exists.²⁰ Accordingly, the Complainant cannot prevail where the existence of any required fact appears unlikely or appears equally likely or unlikely.

¹⁵ TEX. OCC. CODE § 2301.606(c)(2). A respondent may delegate its opportunity to cure to a dealer. A repair visit to a dealer may satisfy the opportunity to cure requirement when the respondent authorizes a dealer to attempt repair after written notice to the respondent. *Dutchmen Manufacturing, Inc. v. 4. The Complaint Identifies the Relevant Issues in this Case

The complaint identifies the relevant issues and limits what may be addressed in this case.²¹ The complaint must state “sufficient facts to enable the department and the party complained against to know the nature of the complaint and the specific problems or circumstances forming the basis of the claim for relief under the lemon law.”²² Because the complaint determines the relevant issues, the Department cannot order relief for an issue not included in the complaint unless tried by consent.²³ The parties may expressly or impliedly consent to hearing issues not included in the complaint.²⁴ Implied consent occurs when a party introduces evidence on an unpleaded issue without objection.²⁵

5. Incidental Expenses

When repurchase or replacement is ordered, the Lemon Law provides for reimbursing the Complainant for reasonable incidental expenses resulting from the vehicle’s loss of use because of the defect.²⁶ Reimbursable expenses include, but are not limited to: (1) alternate transportation; (2) towing; (3) telephone calls or mail charges directly attributable to contacting the manufacturer, distributor, converter, or dealer regarding the vehicle; (4) meals and lodging necessitated by the vehicle’s failure during out-of-town trips; (5) loss or damage to personal property; (6) attorney fees, if the complainant retains counsel after notification that the respondent is represented by counsel; and (7) items or accessories added to the vehicle at or after purchase, less a reasonable allowance for use. The expenses must be reasonable and verifiable (for example, through receipts

B. Summary of Complainant's Evidence and Arguments

On January 27, 2022, the Complainant, purchased a new 2022 Suzuki GSX 1300RRM2 Hayabusa (referred to as the "vehicle" or "motorcycle") from Tejas Motorsports, an authorized dealer of the Respondent, in Highlands, Texas. However, the Complainant took delivery a day or two after the sales contract date. The motorcycle had zero miles on the odometer at the time of purchase. The applicable limited warranty provides coverage for 12 months.

On or about April 11, 2022, the Complainant provided a written notice of defect to the Respondent. On April 1, 2022, the Complainant filed a complaint with the Department alleging that the subject vehicle's computer malfunctioned and the transmission locked up, causing a minor accident. Further, the transmission was locked up, the digital screen was blank, and the motorcycle would not start before taking it to the dealer. In relevant part, the Complainant took the vehicle to a dealer for repair of the alleged issues as follows:

Date	Miles	Issue
2/21/2022	173	computer malfunctioned and the transmission locked up

The Complainant testified that he took delivery of the subject vehicle one or two days after the bill of sale date. He described that clutch did not work and the vehicle stayed in gear with the clutch in. The vehicle malfunctioned once (as described in the complaint) and remained out of service for repair at the dealer for over a month. The Complainant did not ride the vehicle after the malfunction. The Complainant expressed a preference for replacement. He noted that the display (in the center of the instrument panel) turned on but did not show any information.

C. Inspection

During the inspection at the hearing, the motorcycle started, the display turned on, and the transmission shifted normally. The motorcycle had 178 miles on the odometer at the time of inspection.

²⁷ 43 TEX. ADMIN. CODE § 215.209(a).

²⁸ 43 TEX. ADMIN. CODE § 215.208(b)(1).

D. Summary of Respondent's Evidence and Arguments

Mr. Boyd testified that when he inspected the subject vehicle, he found an ignition fuse had opened, which he replaced, but found no shorts or defects to cause the fuse to open. Mr. Boyd shifted the motorcycle in every scenario he could think of but found no defect. He pointed out that the clutch was hydraulic and not connected to the electrical system, which was simple and isolated. Accordingly, the fuse opening did not affect the clutch/transmission. Mr. Boyd explained that the motorcycle was not out of service over 30 days. The Complainant was notified on February 23, 2022, that the motorcycle was ready but the Complainant left the motorcycle at dealer. Mr. Boyd concluded that the subject vehicle did not have a defect

E. Analysis

As explained below, the subject vehicle qualifies for repair relief only. The record indicates that the motorcycle continues to have a warrantable defect that substantially impairs its use and value. The warranty generally provides that “each vehicle is free from defects in materials and factory workmanship.”²⁹ The evidence shows that the clutch/transmission malfunctioned causing the back wheel to lock up, which caused the Complainant to lose control. Such a nonconformity substantially impairs the use of the motorcycle. Further, under the reasonable purchaser standard, the nonconformity substantially impairs the vehicle's value. Though the motorcycle had a repair attempt in which a fuse was replaced, Mr. Boyd explained that the motorcycle's clutch was hydraulic and not connected to the electrical system. Accordingly, the repair would not have affected the clutch/transmission, so that any nonconformity therein would have continued to exist. However, the motorcycle only had one repair attempt and was not out of service for repair for at least 30 days. Although the Complainant left the motorcycle at the dealer for over thirty days, the repairs were completed and the motorcycle ready to be picked up on February 23, 2022, two days after the repair visit “in” date, February 21, 2022. Further, the evidence does not reflect any circumstances that warrant varying from the statutory presumptions for reasonable repairs. Consequently, the vehicle cannot qualify for repurchase or replacement but still qualifies for repair relief.

²⁹ Complainant's Ex. 1, Suzuki On-Road Motorcycle Limited Warranty.

III. Findings of Fact

1. On January 27, 2022, the Complainant, purchased a new 2022 Suzuki GSX 1300RRM2 Hayabusa from Tejas Motorsports, an authorized dealer of the Respondent, in Highlands, Texas. However, the Complainant took delivery a day or two after the sales contract date. The vehicle had zero miles on the odometer at the time of purchase.

2. The vehicle's limited warranty provides coverage for 12 months and generally provides that "each vehicle is free from defects in materials and factory workmanship."

3. The Complainant took the vehicle to a dealer for repair as shown below:

Date	Miles	Issue
2/21/2022	173	computer malfunctioned and the transmission locked up

4. On or about April 11, 2022, the Complainant provided a written notice of defect to the Respondent.

5. On April 1, 2022, the Complainant filed a complaint with the Department alleging that the subject vehicle's computer malfunctioned and the transmission locked up.

6. On May 13, 2022, the Department's Office of Administrative Hearings issued a notice of hearing directed to all parties, giving them not less than 10 days' notice of hearing and their rights under the applicable rules and statutes. The notice stated the time, place and nature of the hearing; the legal authority and jurisdiction under which the hearing was to be held; particular sections of the statutes and rules involved; and the factual matters asserted.

7. The hearing in this case convened on October 18, 2022, in Baytown, Texas, before Hearings Examiner Andrew Kang, and the record closed on the same day. The Complainant, represented himself. Pat Boyd, Technical Service and Parts Manager, represented the Respondent.

8. The vehicle's odometer displayed 178 miles at the time of the hearing.

9. The vehicle's warranty was in effect at the time of the hearing.

10. During the inspection at the hearing, the vehicle started, the display turned on, and the transmission shifted normally.

11. The vehicle's clutch/transmission malfunctioned causing the back wheel to lock up, which caused the Complainant to lose control.
12. The vehicle had a fuse replaced. However, the vehicle's clutch was hydraulic and not connected to the electrical system. Accordingly, the fuse replacement would not have affected the clutch/transmission, so that any clutch/transmission nonconformity would have continued to exist.
13. The repairs were completed and the vehicle ready to be picked up on February 23, 2022, two days after the repair visit "in" date, February 21, 2022.

IV. Conclusions of Law

1. The Texas Department of Motor Vehicles has jurisdiction over this matter. TEX. OCC. CODE §§ 2301.601-2301.613 and 2301.204.
2. A hearings examiner of the Department's Office of Administrative Hearings has jurisdiction over all matters related to conducting a hearing in this proceeding, including the preparation of a decision with findings of fact and conclusions of law, and the issuance of a final order. TEX. OCC. CODE § 2301.704.
3. The Complainant filed a sufficient complaint with the Department. 43 TEX. ADMIN. CODE § 215.202.
4. The parties received proper notice of the hearing. TEX. GOV'T CODE §§ 2001.051, 2001.052. 43 TEX. ADMIN. CODE § 215.206(2).
5. The Complainant bears the burden of proof in this matter. 43 TEX. ADMIN. CODE § 206.66(d).
6. The Complainant's vehicle does not qualify for replacement or repurchase. The vehicle did not have a reasonable number of repair attempts. TEX. OCC. CODE §§ 2301.604(a) and 2301.605(a).
7. If the Complainant's vehicle does not qualify for replacement or repurchase, this Order may require repair to obtain compliance with the Respondent's warranty. TEX. OCC. CODE §§ 2301.204 and 2301.603; 43 TEX. ADMIN. CODE § 215.208(e).

8. The Complainant's vehicle qualifies for warranty repair. The Complainant proved that the vehicle has a defect covered by the Respondent's warranty. TEX. OCC. CODE §§ 2301.204 and 2301.603. The Complainant or an agent of the Complainant notified the Respondent or Respondent's agent of the alleged defect(s). TEX. OCC. CODE §§ 2301.204 and 43 TEX. ADMIN. CODE § 215.202(b)(3).
9. The Respondent remains responsible to address and repair or correct any defects that are covered by the Respondent's warranty. TEX. OCC. CODE § 2301.603.

V. Order

Based on the foregoing Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, it is ORDERED that the Complainant's petition for relief pursuant to Texas Occupations Code §§ 2301.601-2301.613 is DISMISSED. It is FURTHER ORDERED that the Respondent shall make any repairs needed to conform the subject vehicle to the applicable warranty; specifically, the Respondent shall resolve the clutch/transmission locking up. Upon this Order becoming final under Texas Government Code § 2001.144:³⁰ (1) the Complainant shall deliver the vehicle to the Respondent within 20 days; and (2) the Respondent shall complete the repair of the vehicle within 20 days after receiving it. However, if the Department determines the Complainant's refusal or inability to deliver the vehicle caused the failure to complete the required repair as prescribed, the Department may consider the Complainant to have rejected the granted relief and deem this proceeding concluded and the complaint file closed under 43 Texas Administrative Code § 215.210(2).

³⁰ This Order does not become final on the date this Order is signed, instead: (1) this Order becomes final if a party does not file a motion for rehearing within 25 days after the date this Order is signed, or (2) if a party files a motion for rehearing within 25 days after the date this Order is signed, this Order becomes final when: (A) an order overruling the motion for rehearing is signed, or (B) the Department has not acted on the motion within 55 days after the date this Order is signed. Accordingly, this Order cannot become final (1) while a motion for rehearing remains pending; or (2) after the grant of a motion for rehearing.
